THE CASTLES

KING LUDWIG'S – HERRENCHIEMPSEE PALACE

In 1873 King Ludwig II of Bavaria acquired the Herreninsel as the location for his Royal Palace of Herrenchiemsee. Modelled on Versailles, this palace was built as a "Temple of Fame" for King Louis XIV of France, whom the Bavarian monarch fervently admired. The actual building of this "Bavarian Versailles", which was begun in 1878 from plans by Georg Dollmann, was preceded by a total of 13 planning stages. When Ludwig II died in 1886 the palace was still incomplete, and sections of it were later demolished.

HOHENSALZBURG FORTRESS – SALZBURG, AUSTRIA

In the year 1077, Archbishop Gebhard had the fortress built. In the years which followed, his successors drove ongoing development of the fortress architecture. The complex acquired the appearance we recognize today under Archbishop Leonhard von Keutschach in 1500. The original purpose of the fortress was to protect the principality and the archbishops from hostile attacks. In all of these years, it has never been captured.

LINDERHOF PALACE – BAVARIA GERMANY

Linderhof Palace is in southwest Bavaria near Ettal Abbey. It is the smallest of the three palaces built by King Ludwig II of Bavaria and the only one which he lived to see completed.

King Ludwigs Grotto where he listen to live music while floating on the water in his boat shaped like a shell.

HOHENSWANGAU CASTLE – SWANGAU, GERMANY
The boyhood home of King Ludwig II

Ludwig spent much of his childhood at Hohenschwangau Castle, a neo-Gothic, medieval-inspired castle elaborately decorated with scenes from legend and poetry. It was built by his father, King Maximilian II of Bavaria. After his accession to the throne in 1864, Ludwig set out to build a “New Hohenschwangau Castle”

NEUSCHWANGSTEIN CASTLE
King Ludwig II - Fairytale Castle

The castle is located in Bavaria, near the town of Fussen. It was built by King Ludwig II of Bavaria, also known as the “Fairytale King” and his “Fairytale Castle.” It is a medieval-style castle with King Ludwig’s fairy-tale vision. This fairytale look of the Neuschwanstein castle inspired Walt Disney to create the Magic Kingdom and he patterned his castle for Disney Land after Neuschwanstein Castle. You can ride horse drawn carriages  $\frac{3}{4}$  the way up to the castle and walk the rest of the up to the entrance or enjoy a beautiful walk up to the castle. It is located in the Village of Schwangau.

OBERAMMERGAU, GERMANY
The home of the original PASSION PLAY
The Promise kept for 386 years

Oberammergau, is a municipality in the district of Garmisch-Partenkirchen, in Bavaria, Germany. The small town on the Ammer River is known for its woodcarvers and woodcarvings, and across the world for its 386-year tradition of presenting The Passion Play. It is a fun place to shop.

HANSEL AND GRETEL PAINTED HOUSE

Oberammergau, is a small beautiful fairy tale village tucked away into the mountains of Bavaria. Centuries old houses are painted with murals that depict fairytales such as “Hansel and Gretel” or “Little Red Riding Hood”. However, most of the frescoes covering the stucco walls depict something related to Christian faith.

THE HISTORY OF THE PASSION PLAY The Last Supper

The history of the Oberammergau Passion Play dates back to the seventeenth century. In 1633, the residents of Oberammergau, Bavaria, Germany, were suffering from the Black Plague, also known as the Bubonic Plague. The plague killed thousands as it spread through Europe. For months, the town’s people managed to keep the deadly disease at bay, mainly because of its remote location in Bavarian Alps. The epidemic finally struck the small village of Ettal, which is located next to Oberammergau.

The village people continued to control the spread of the disease by keeping close watch and preventing strangers from entering their village. Finally, a villager who had been away, homesick for his family, slipped back into the town and unknowingly brought the plague to his own people. Within a few months, 84 villagers had died.

The surviving villagers appealed for Divine intervention to save their families. They made a solemn oath to God and vowed that if God were to spare them from further deaths, they would perform a day-long play every ten years, depicting the Passion of Christ. According to the story passed down from generation to generation, after that, they say not a single person fell victim to the Plague. God heard their prayer and there were no more deaths. Keeping their promise, the people of Oberammergau performed the first play in 1634 and have continued to do so throughout the centuries.

The Oberammergau Passion Play is performed in an open-air stage in the Bavarian town of Oberammergau, Germany. It is surrounded by breath taking scenery with mountains foliage, you will feel like you are close to heaven.

PONTIUS PILATE AUTHORIZED JESUS'S CRUCIFIXION

The Passion Play is performed every 10 years. Tradition has it that the citizens of Oberammergau perform the play, not some international actors. The villagers of Oberammergau have kept their promise-vow unbroken for 386 years.

THE CRUCIFIXION

The play runs for approximately five or five and a half hours with an intermission of three hours.

- Part I – 2:30 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.
- Special Dinner provided in Oberammergau (included in tour)
- Part II – 8 p.m. – 10:30 p.m.

THE RISEN KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS

The play is performed five days per week in an open-air theater that seats about 4,700 people. It is anticipated that more than 750,000 will attend from May-October 2020

With castles, palaces, beautiful scenery, historical sights, and cultural treats, the Passion Play tour of Oberammergau, Bavaria, Germany and Salzburg, Austria—is sure to delight your heart and build your faith in the Lord.
